Hospital Election To Provide Funds Set November 23

Faced with the alternative of leaving the new wing of the hospital unfinished or developing a source of revenue to complete the job, the governing board of the Tahoe Forest Hospital Friday took the only sensible action possible and set Tuesday, November 23 as the date for a second bond election.

The first election to provide financing for the required expansion of the facility failed to carry August 31 by 67 votes with less than one-fourth of the registered voters in the district balloting on the important issue.

To assure ample money to complete the job in the face of spiriling costs and unexpected delays, the board has set $645,000 as the goal for the November 23 election. This is $45,000 over the amount sought in the August balloting.

Various service organizations, chambers of commerce and other groups as well as the governing board of the hospital and the auxiliary have supported the bond issue and many have pledged to increase their efforts for the forthcoming election.

A two-thirds majority of those voting is required to provide the necessary bonds and the directors are confident that 67 votes short in the recent balloting can be secured.

VOTER REGISTRATION

Voter registration for those wishing to participate in the hospital bond election on November 23 will close next Thursday, September 30 and everyone not currently registered is asked to register before the closing date.

Jim Loynd is believed to have been the first lucky local hunter, bagging his forked-horn buck near the state line early Saturday.

State Senator Paul Lunardi had a three-pointer validated the opening day near Boca.

An indication of the number of hunters in the district was seen in a report from a checking station on oRute 89 north of Truckee where 4,000 permits were issued motorists going north from Truckee.

Wolverines Drop First Game; Here Saturday At Noon

By Ray Mullins
KHOE Sports Director

In the preliminary, the Wolverine JV's tied their opponents 12 to 12 in a fast, well played contest.

The Mustangs, with a line averaging 194 pounds, stayed on the ground for most of the game, bulling their way to a great number of first downs with center and line bucks, they made their one tally with a pass. The quarterback fired one from about the Wolverine 30-yard line to his receiver standing flat footed in the coffin corner for six points. The Wolverines were able to hold in the conversion attempt.

The Wolverines made their share of first downs against the bigger team, but were able to make only four penetrations into Mustang territory. The Tahoe Truckee team was sparkplugged by Steve Felte and John Besio with Al Olson moving in to punt and getting off some beautiful boots.

The most exciting play of the game came in the last few seconds when John Besio took a kickoff on his own goal line and ran it

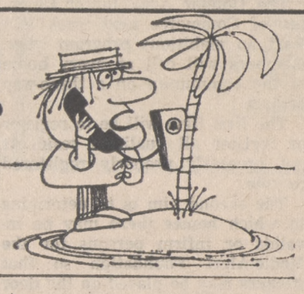
WHAT'S DOING?



It was 86 years ago that phone numbers were born—with Dr. Moses Greeley Parker. During a measles epidemic in Lowell, Mass., Dr. Parker realized that if the town's four operators got sick phone service would virtually cease. He proposed using numbers in place of the 200 subscribers' names—which the regular operators had memorized—so that substitutes might quickly learn to operate the exchange. Keeping track of those 200 telephones, without numbers, was a problem then—but today with more than 90 million phones in the U.S.A. it would be impossible.

When President Johnson signed the 1965 Excise Tax Reduction Bill he stated its purpose: to help America grow by creating lower prices, more sales, more production, more jobs. As part of this bill, the 10% Federal Excise Tax on phone service will be removed in four stages: Beginning January 1966 it will be cut by 7% then by 1% each year until it is eliminated in 1969. The President said the Excise Tax reduction will make its maximum contribution to the country's economic health only if the full amount is passed along to consumers. The reduction in Excise Tax will be reflected in your telephone bill in January, which I'm sure comes as good news to you.

This season we will bring you a new TV comedy series. Called "Hank," it's the hilarious story of a college drop-in. Hank, who never finished high school, somehow does manage to attend classes at a university—much to the registrar's frustration. Plan to watch "Hank," one of the funniest campus heroes in years. Check your newspaper for time and station.

That, son, is a home that's completely heated by electricity. And in the years ahead, it's likely that more homes will be heated by electricity than by any other method.
Electric home heating is the really modern way—clean, automatic, safe, and so convenient. You can have a chimney if you want it, of course, but you'll save many dollars on home building with easy-to-install, economical electric heating.

DONNER DOINGS....

By Vi White

Ah, it looks like the Indian Summer is here at last. After that cold spell and chilly east breeze, a little warmth feels good.

The water is going down fast now, so if you're out in a boat, watch out for those rocks that are beginning to emerge.

The best news that property owners at the west end and southside of Donner Lake have received in a long time was brought to light last Thursday. The resolution to form a road assessment district was accepted by the Nevada County Board of Supervisors.

After numerous trips to Nevada City and conforming to the wishes of the board, it was passed!

Those of us who attended the meeting were overjoyed with the decision. Thanks to Supervisor Henry Loehr of our 5th District. He really put in a good word about the group of property owners who banded together willing to assess themselves to improve road conditions.

John and Dorothy Maragliano, Roy and Eve Martin, Mrs. Green, Dawn Whitney, Lorain Peters, Jim Cullen, the Parker Adkisson's and myself, all members of the Donner Lake Property Owners' Association made the trip to attend the meeting.

The next step is the public hearing that will probably be held in May next year in Nevada City.

In the meantime, the engineers, Clair Hill and Associates will be in the area doing some preliminary survey work.

Sorry to learn of Ivan Tofft's illness—we all hope for a speedy recovery, Ivan.

A very cold east wind blew for the first Lido 14 Invitational Regatta sponsored by the Donner Lake Sailing Club last weekend.

Twelve boats started from Cottage Pines pier, headed east around the first buoy, then downwind to other flags near the west end and back to the start-finish line.

Checking to see if all the boats conformed to rules set by the race committee were judges, Les Hadley, John Marshall, Sky Miles and Carson White.

Sky had his hands full taxiing the boats around before and after the races and patroling in case one capsized.

The air horn on "Littl' Toot" blasted everytime a boat crossed the finish line.

A dinner meeting was held at Donner Lake Lodge Saturday night with 40 enthusiasts attending. Racing Chairman Lloyd Pratt did a fine job for the club's first ragatta.

Trophies were presented the winners on the lawn at the lodge Sunday afternoon.

This last regatta was for all the same type of boats, but the next event, the first annual club championships will have different kinds of sailboats, from tiny Melody's on up. Should be fun.

If any of you sailing enthusiasts want to enter on October 2nd, just give membership chairman, Fred Hodder of Donner Lake a call, 587-3300. Incidentially, Fred and his crew Lee Bergstrom were 2nd in the first race Saturday and 4th overall to receive a beautiful trophy.

WATUSI REVUE RATED GREAT

CRYSTAL BAY—When twenty (count 'em—twenty) luscious lovelies gyrate in the watusi, frug, monkey and jerk . . . then you've got a solid entertainment combination to amaze and amuse even the most jaded showgoer.

In the Topaz Room of North Lake Tahoe's Nevada Lodge, you have exactly that . . . with the bold bright Watusi Whing Ding Revue. The new show features twenty magnificent showgirls, striking stage settings and stunning costumes . . . a combination that has drawn raves from reviewers and audiences alike.

The creation of Bonnie Hunt, with expert choreography by Carlton Johnson, the Watusi Whing Ding revue is an entirely new and different revue that will appeal to all those who prefer their entertainment very upbeat. Another hit revue to grace the Nevada Lodge's year 'round entertainment policy; Watusi Whing Ding takes stage center twice nightly except Monday and three times on Friday and Saturday.

Sharing the Topaz Room spotlight is the Esquire trio . . . one of the more popular comedy and song groups on the Reno-Tahoe-Las Vegas circuit. The well-known trio, formerly associated with Doris Day, features Bob Hanno on piano, Joe Martini on accordion and Eddie Bee on bass.

The Watusi Whing Ding revue holds down the Topaz Room entertainment fort through October 16.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

by Henry C. MacArthur

SACRAMENTO — (CNS — The California legislature, over the years, has evidenced its intent that the public has a right to know how its money is being spent and that transactions with private business are open and above board.

This has resulted in a number of laws requiring publication of notices in newspapers of general cerculation—known generally as legal publication.

Some recent decisions of the alcoholic beverage control appeals board, however, indicate the lawmakers may have been remiss in the important field of alcoholic beverages.

The state has a unique fair trade law on the sale of liquor. It requires to begin with, that wholesalers or manufacturers file with the department of alcoholic beverage control a schedule of their wholesale prices to retailers. It also requires the manufacturers, wholesalers or brand owners to file with the department the minimum retail price at which a particular kind of liquor can be sold. The department must then enforce this minimum price in all sales.

In practice, a list of these minimum price postings is published in two trade journals — one a monthly and one a bi-weekly. In several cases, liquor store operators charged with selling at below the minimum price have contended they did not see the publications and had no way of knowing what the minimum price was. The appeals board, ruling against the department, held that, in the absence of having such publication, the liquor stores did not know the minimum price.

It might be noted that the emphasis here is on informing the retailer what the minimum price is so that he might comply with the law. But there apparently has been no concern over whether the consumer knows the price and whether he is being charged prices higher than the minimum.

In view of the fact that some of the people in the business are not aware of the minimum prices, or at least claim to be unaware, and that the present system affords the consumer no knowledge of the minimum prices, the system might be changed. The question might be raised as to why such minimum price lists should not be published in newspapers of general circulation so the consuming public could be informed.

It's true, of course, that the minimum price postings are by private companies and involve retail sales by private firms. Nevertheless, since the department of alcoholic beverage control must enforce these prices, the public interest would appear to be involved.

If the sale of liquor were on a wide open and competitive basis, there would be no obligation to inform the consumer of minimum prices, no more than there would be on coffee or hamburger. But this is not the case.

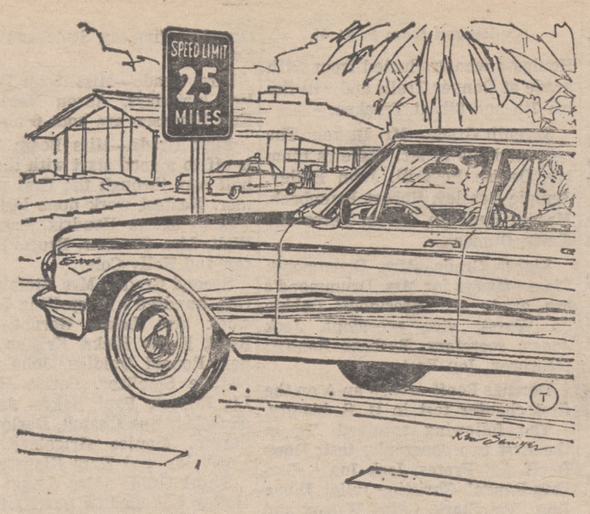
Some liquor stores are large enough that they have liquor bottled for them under their own brand name—known in the trade as private labels. Many of these post a minimum retail price with the department at the legal minimum—their cost plus 6 per cent.

An example would be a store that posts a minimum price of $3.29 for a bottle of whiskey, then sells it normally for $3.79. The store then will run occasional "specials", at which it advertises that the whiskey, normally $3.79, will be sold for $3.59. This indicates a discount or big bargain when the price still is higher than the posted minimum.

Legal publication of the minimum might end such deceptive practices.

The whole field of the public's notice of liquor prices, and the present apparently inadequate practices, well could provide a fertile area of study for the state's consumer counsel, Mrs. Helen Nelson. It might not appear so important to her as whether a package of frozen beans is one-half ounce light but it could be an important subject to many of the state's consumers.

Behind The Wheel



SPEED LAWS—The truly expert driver doesn't stand out in the general traffic picture; he's the one you never notice, says the California State Automobile Association. For one thing, he adheres to the posted speed laws: he does not exceed them nor does he travel at speeds greatly below them. He takes into consideration all driving conditions—the traffic flow, the weather and the highway conditions. In no case does he travel at a speed that endangers others.

TIME EXTENDED TO REGISTER VEHICLES

Commercial vehicle owners who pay weight fees to the department of Motor Vehicles on a quarterly basis now have 20 days to renew their registrations instead of 5 days.

DMV Director Tom Bright said he is pleased that the state legislature relaxed the time limit which "caused unreasonable inconvenience to many owners". The law change became effective September 17.

Penalties for late renewals of quarterly registrations will become due 21 days after the end of a quarter instead of 6 days. The same time limit applies to a new application for quarterly registration following first operation of a vehicle on the highway.

The legislature also modified certain penalty provisions for quarterly registrations.

Quinton Kay Weds Carmichael Girl In Double Ring Rites

Following a honeymoon in the bay area, Mr. and Mrs. Quinton Kay will establish their home here. The wedding of the young couple was held Friday evening in Carmichael, in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, when Miss Carol Koford became Mrs. Kay in a double ring service.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Morrow of Carmichael, wore a gown of reembroidered Alencon lace over taffeta, with wrist length sleeves, floor length skirt and train. Her elbow length veil was secured by a pearl trimmed lace headpiece, her bouquet was of butterfly orchids with stephanotis.

Gail Peacock was the maid of honor, her gown was of peau de soie in an aqua shade and of floor length. Identical ensembles were chosen by the bridemaids, including Liane Kay of Truckee and Barbara and Linda Gummerson of Cloverdale.

Tim Risden stood as best man and ushers were Richard Ensberry and Nowlin Haltom.

Zachary Kay, the young brother of the bridegroom was the ring bearer. The reception was held in the Comstock Room of the Sacramento Inn, following the nuptial vows.

Mr. and Mrs. Kay attended Sacramento State College. Kay was a June graduate. He is presently employed at the Donner State Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kay, returned to Truckee following the event.

Androus Wrote—

Edward Androus sent greetings from their home at Banning, telling of their son, Leslie, who will complete his basic training at Fort Ord tomorrow. He also said that the weather in the south had become suddenly damp and chilly after a perfect summer.

FIVE TROUT LIMIT AT DONNER IS PROPOSED

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) — The state department of fish and game has released its recommendations for 1966 fishing season, regulations and limits, moving opening days to Saturdays, attempting to standardize salmon and steelhead seasons and making special provisions for Putah Creek.

The general trout season would open on April 30 and continue on through October 31, in line with the general policy of having major seasons open on Saturday. The season would open May 28 in Humboldt and Del Norte counties. The regular winter seasons, with reduced limits of five fish, would continue in southern counties.

The proposals of the department will be presented to the fish and game commission in October. They will be considered at a meeting in November, at which time the commission will announce its intention to adopt certain regulations. The final adoption of seasons, limits and regulations will take place in December. Hunting regulations are considered in three similar meeting in March, April and May.

Make the five-trout limit effective at Donner Lake for the entire season. Stocking of regular catchable sized trout on the lake has produced a poor return and it is proposed to stock the lake with larger trout — 10 inches minimum — but fewer fish.

Wolverines

back to the Mustang 35-yard line. He came up the sideline and broke into the clear about his own 40 with only one Mustang tackler between him and the goal post. Unfortunately, John ran over his blockers and was forced to the sideline and the one tackler was all it took to stop him from making the touchdown.

The Wolverine eleven shows great promise for this year in the gridiron wars. If Coach Guy Wilson, Line Coach Bert Greene and Backfield Coach Roger Tofft work toward speeding up the line and the rest of the backs, Felte will be able to zero in on them with his bullet passes.

John Besio is fast back and seems to overrun his blockers. If the Wolverines can put the necessary interference in front of Besio he should be able to run up some impressive scores.

As a matter of fact the rest of the team works well together, needing only more speed in the backfields and ends.

This Saturday at noon, the Wolverines meet the Loyalton eleven on the field in Truckee, the JV starting at noon with the varsity to follow immediately at the close of the preliminary.

Sailboat Regatta

Lloyd Pratt of Roseville placed third with 258 points with his wife, Noni handling the jib. Pratt, chairman of the club's racing committee, was commended for a well handled event at the dinner Saturday evening at Donner Lake Lodge.

Skipper Fred Hodder of Donner Lake with crewman Les Bergstrom came in second in the first race and received the Donner Sailing Club perpetual trophy. Wes and Virginia Thomas of Sacramento were third.

Other entries were Anthony and Eileen Lavalsiti of Sacramento, Floyd and Betty Weinberg of Roseville, Peter Bryan of Napa, Kenneth and Donna Brasher, Fair Oaks; Richard and Marie Good, Sacramento; Leland and Natalie Brown, Napa and Harry and Virginia White, Sacramento.

Clubs represented were Folsom, Lake Yacht Club, Donner Lake Sailing Club, Lake Merritt Sailing Club, Tahoe Yacht Club and Le Prosa Grande Yacht Club.

The Donner Sailing Club will hold its first annual championships October 2, according to Ed Corum, the commodore and all types of sailboats will be entered. A dinner and presentation of trophies will take place that night at Donner Lake Lodge.
